

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. INTRODUCTION.

PROBABLY all Professors in our Schools of Pharmacy and Medicine, and especially those who aim at a broad education of their students, will agree that a knowledge of Latin is essential to a thorough comprehension of the language peculiar to their work. The student, however, who looks mainly to the practical side of his subject—seeing but a remote connection between the ordinary Latin text-book and the special knowledge he requires—throws aside any systematic study of this important language, deeming it a waste of valuable time. To meet this grave objection of the special student, and yet, in a moderate degree, at least, accomplish the purpose referred to, explains the appearance of this book.

The material in the following pages has been used in manuscript form by my classes of the past year, and I desire to state that, in spite of this disadvantage, its use has saved much time. The student has been able to accomplish twice the amount of work, and that more thoroughly than by the ordinary method. At the same time he has been interested in the work from the beginning.

L. E. SAYRE, PH.G.,

Dean of Department of Pharmacy, University of Kansas.

PREFACE.

THIS book is the outgrowth of experience. It was designed expressly to meet the needs of the first year pharmacy and medical students of this institution. Considerable experience in teaching such students had clearly shown that those who had not studied Latin were at great disadvantage compared with those who had acquired a fair knowledge of that language. They were found to be much slower in understanding the terminology and securing a firm grasp of the subjects presented; and, without a clear knowledge of terms, satisfactory progress was impossible. To remedy this difficulty, all pharmacy and first year medical students were required to study Latin, using the same text-books as do classical students. The result was a great improvement, but not as great as was anticipated. Something was found to be still lacking. For though the student made fair progress in learning the language, he of course made no progress in learning the peculiar terminology of his subject. Here was another difficulty. How should it be met? It was very clear that if the student, while learning his Latin, could learn, at the same time, the names of drugs and many of the formulæ for preparing medicines, a great gain would be made. This would make the study of the language practical, and bear directly upon his life-work. But how could this be done? Where could a suitable book be published it? These were some of our inc gently in all directions, and searching carefully everywhere, we found to our surprise that no such book had yet been made. What should we do? Give it up and go back to the old unsatisfactory way? In our perplexity a friend suggested that we make the desired book, or at least such a book as our experience in teaching showed that the pupil required; that if we thus supplied the needs of our own students, we should probably supply the needs of thousands of others. With no guide, therefore, but our own experience and observation, we have prepared this little book for the special use of pharmacy and medical students.

The aim has been to make it as practical for these students as the philosophical unfolding of the principles of Latin grammar would permit. Our motto has been, "The minimum of theory and the maximum of practice."

In writing the exercises we have tried to avoid stiffness and formality, and make them lively and interesting, often carrying a connected thought through an entire lesson.

The questions to be answered in Latin, carried through many lessons, will be found very useful in requiring the student to master a large vocabulary early in his course. To the same end the teacher will find it profitable to require the student to recite chiefly without a book.

The book contains for translation many Latin prescriptions, and formulæ for preparing medicines, partly taken from books written recently, and partly from the old Roman writers Cato and Celsus.

We trust our "Suggestive Derivations" will also prove a valuable feature of the work, and prompt the student to much earnest study of a similar nature in the line indicated.

Our acknowledgments are due to Professor L. E. Sayre, the Dean of the Department of Pharmacy in the University of Kansas, for valuable suggestions and assistance in pharmacy; to Miss Adelaide Rudolph, Assistant Teacher of Latin in the same institution, for thoroughly testing the work in the class-room; also to Ginn & Co., for permission to follow, as far as might suit our convenience, the plan of Collar & Daniell's "Beginner's Latin Book."

Conscious that the book may contain many imperfections, we ask those into whose hands it may fall, to note and kindly send us such suggestions of changes as they think ought to be made, to the end that, if we are ever fortunate enough to reach a second edition, such suggestions may be utilized in making a better and more useful work.

D. H. Robinson,

Lawrence, Kansas, 1890.

THE LATIN GRAMMAR

 \mathbf{OF}

PHARMACY AND MEDICINE.

CHAPTER I.

INTRODUCTORY.

ALPHABET.

1. THE Latin alphabet is the same as the English, with the omission of w. 2. Letters are divided into two classes:
I. Vowels
2. Mutes,— (a) P-mutes
 Sibilant

3. ROMAN METHOD OF PRONUNCIATION.

1. Vowels.

 ā is sounded like a in father.

 ă
 " a in half.

 ē
 " e in they.

 ĕ
 " e in them.

 ī
 " i in pique.

 Y
 " i in pin.

```
ō is sounded like o in ore.
ŏ
              " o in obey.
              " u in rude.
û
              " u in full.
ŭ

2. Diphthongs.

ae is sounded like ai in aisle. " ou in our. . .. ei in veil. ei oi in toil. " eu in feud. eu ui we.

3. Consonants.

Most of the consonants have the same sounds as in English; but notice the following:

c is sounded like c in cave, to apply forthe " g in give. " y in yes. _  " t in time. " s in sin. w in win. when would be a verse or 4. SYLLABLES.

- 1. In dividing a word into syllables, make as many syllables as there are vowels and diphthongs: gen-ti-ā'-na, mor-phi-a.
 - 2. A single consonant is joined with the vowel following: hu'me-rus, di'-gi-tus.
 - 3. If there are two or more consonants between two vowels, as many are joined to the following vowel as can be pronounced at the beginning of a word or syllable: sac-cha-rum, del-phī-nī-um.
 - 4. In compound words the division must show the component parts: ab'-est (ab, away; est, he is).
 - 5. The last syllable of a word is called the ultima; the one next to the last, the penult; the one before the penult, the antepenult.

5. QUANTITY.

Syllables are in quantity either long, short or common.

woods must always to dended as as in aton min

- 1. A syllable is long in quantity,-
- (a) If it contains a diphthong: ae-rū'-go.
- (b) If its vowel is followed by j, x, z, or any two consonants, except a mute with l or r: nux, plum'-bum, quas'-si-a.
- 2. A syllable is short if its vowel is followed by another vowel or diphthong: olčum.
- 3. A syllable is common if its vowel, naturally short, is followed by a mute with l or r: pi-gri, a'-gri.

The signs -, -, are used to mark quantity, the first indicating that the syllable over which it is placed is long; the second, that it is short, and the third that it is common.

6. ACCENT.

- 1. Words of two syllables are always accented on the first: cro'-cus, crē-ta.
- 2. Words of more than two syllables are accented on the Penult, if that is long in quantity; otherwise, on the Antepenult: cin-nă-mō'-mum, eu-phor'-bi-a.

7. CASES.

- 1. In Latin there are six cases: nominative, genitive, dative, accusative, vocative and ablative.
 - 2. These cases correspond to the following English equivalents:

The nominative, to the nominative.

The genitive, to the possessive, or objective with of.

The dative, to the objective with to or for.

The accusative, to the objective,

The vocative, to the nominative independent.

The ablative, to the objective with from, by, in, with.

8. GENDER.

The gender, in some nouns, is determined by the meaning; in others, by endings.

- 1. Names of males are masculine: Æsculapius; medicus, a physician.
- 2. Names of rivers, winds and mountains are masculine: Danubius, Danube; Notus, south-wind; Apenninus, Apennines.

- 3. Names of females are feminine: CORNELIA.
- 4. Names of countries, towns, islands and trees are feminine: America; Roma, Rome; Silicia, Sicily; Pinus, pine-tree.
 - 5. Indeclinable nouns are neuter: KINO.

The learner is supposed to be familiar with the names and meanings of the ordinary grammatical terms, such as subject, object, predicate, case, mood, tense, voice, declension, conjugation, etc. No explanation of these terms will, therefore, be given.

CHAPTER II.

9. DECLENSION OF NOUNS.

1. There are five declensions, distinguished from each other by the case-ending of the genitive singular and by the stem characteristic, as follows:

STEM	CHAI	RACT	ERIS	STI	CS.			(EN	ITI	V	E ENDINGS.
Dec. I.	ă											ae
Dec. II.	ŏ		٠.			+						ī
Dec. III.	ĭ or a	cons	sona	nt								žs
Dec. IV.	ŭ											ūs
Dec. V.	ē											$\bar{e}i$

- 2. In declension each case is formed by combining two parts,— stem and termination.
- The stem is the unchanged base to which the terminations are added.
- The terminations consist of case-endings joined with the final letter of the stem.

FIRST DECLENSION.

10. Nouns of this declension are of the feminine gender; but see general rules (8).

The nominative singular ends in a and e.

11. They are declined as follows:

SINGULAR.	PLURAL.
N. přiňla, a pill.	N. pĭlŭlæ, pills.
G. pilule, of a pill.	G. pĭlŭlārum, of pills.
D. pilulæ, to or for a pill.	D. pilulis, to or for pills.
Ac. pilŭlam, a pill.	Ac. pĭlŭlās, pills.
V. přidlě, O pill.	V. přlůlæ, O pills.
Ab. pilūlā, from, with or by a pill.	Ab. pilulis, from, with or by pills.
SING	ULAR.
N. aloē	the aloe.

N.	aloē	٠					2		the aloe.
G.	aloēs	4							of the aloe.
D.	aloē			-					to or for the aloe.
Ac.	aloen								the aloe.
V.	aloē								O aloe.

Ab. aloë from, with or by the aloc.

The plural has the same terminations as nouns in a.

12. Table of Terminations.

NOUNS IN A.	NOUNS IN E.
Singular.	Singular.	Plural.
N. a	N. ē	N. āe
G. āe	G. ēs	G. ārun
D. āe	D. ē	D. 18
Ac. ăm	Ac. ēn	Ac. ās
V. a	V. ē	V. āe
Ab. ā	Ab. ē	Ab. īs

The pupil should commit to memory this table of terminations.

 In Latin there is no article; pilŭla may be translated a pill, the pill or pill.

14. Rules of Syntax:

The subject of a finite verb is in the nominative case: Pilŭla est parva, the pill is small.

- 15. The direct object of a transitive verb is in the accusative case: Puella habet crētam, the girl has the chalk.
- 16. A noun in the predicate, referring to the same person or thing as the subject, is put in the same case: Quinia est bona medicina, quinine is good medicine.
- 17. The indirect object is put in the dative case: Nautae pilŭlam dat, he gives a pill to the sailor.

18.

VOCABULARY, 1.

CHAPTER XX.

COMPARISON OF ADJECTIVES.

- 81. Adjectives in Latin, as in English, change their terminations to express different degrees of quality: altus, altior, altissimus.
 - 82. They may also be compared, as in English, by means of adverbs. The adverbs used in Latin are magis, more; maxime, most; magis altus, maxime altus, higher, highest.

83. Adjectives are regularly compared by adding to the stem of the positive the endings:

COMPARATIVE.

SUPERLATIVE.

Mas.	Fem.	Neut.	Mas.	Fem.	Neut.
ior.	ior.	ius.	issimus.	issima.	issimum.

Altus, altior, allissimus, high, higher, highest; levis, levior, levissimus, light, lighter, lightest.

- 84. Adjectives in er have regular comparatives, but add rimus to form the superlative: acer, acrior, acerrimus, sharp, sharper, sharpest. Vetus has veterrimus.
- 85. Six in ilis have regular comparatives, but add limus to the stem to form the superlative; Facilis, difficilis, easy, difficult; similis, dissimilis, like, unlike; gracilis, humilis, slender, low; facilis, e, easy; facilior, facilius, facillimus, -a, -um.

86.

Irregular Comparison.

bonus, -a, -um,	melior, -ius,	optimus, -a, -um,	good, etc.
malus, -a, -um,	pejor, -ius,	pessimus, -a, -um,	bad, etc.

CHAPTER XXI.

COMPARISON OF ADVERBS.

91. Most adverbs are derived from adjectives, and are dependent upon them for their comparison. The comparative is the accusative neuter singular of the adjective, and the superlative changes the ending us of the adjective into \bar{e} :

Altus,	altior,	altissimus,	high,
Alte,	altius,	altissime.	highly,
Prudens,	prudentior,	prudentissimus,	prudent,
Prudenter,	prudentius,	prudentissimē,	prudently.

92. When the adjective is irregular, the adverb has the same irregularity:

Bonus,	melior,	optimus,	good,
Bene,	melius,	optimē,	well,
Malus,	pējor,	pessimus,	bad,
Male,	pējus,	pessimē.	badly.

² Having removed the kettle from the fire.

³ That it may grow white.

^{4&}quot;Cum" governs the ablative "unciis duabus," with two ounces.

⁵ From "redigo," reduced, beaten to.

⁶ Will not drop off.

93. When the adjective is defective, the adverb is generally defective:

	dēterior,	dēterrimus,	worse,
	dēterius,	dēterrimē,	worse,
Novus,		novissimus,	new,
Nove,		novissimē,	newly.

94. A few not derived from adjectives are compared:

Diu,	diutius,	diutissime,	for a long time,
Sæpe,	sæpius,	sæpissime,	often,
Satis,	satius,		sufficiently,
Nuper,		nuperrime,	recently.

- 95. Most adverbs not derived from adjectives, as also those from adjectives incapable of comparison, are not compared: hic, here; nunc, now; vulgariter, commonly.
- 96. Superlatives in o or um are used in a few adverbs: primo, primum, potissimum.

CHAPTER XXX.

121. PRONOUNS.

- 122. Pronouns may be divided into six classes:
- (1) Personal, tu, thou,
- (2) Possessive, meus, my,
- (3) Demonstrative, hīc, this,
- (4) Relative, qui, who,
- (5) Interrogative, quis, who?,
- (6) Indefinite, aliquis, some one.

² Quaque quarta hora-every fourth hour; time when.

123. Personal Pronouns.

PARADIGMS.

FIRST PERSON. 124. Ego, I.

SINGULAR.

PLURAL.

N. ego, I.
G. mei, of me.
D. mihi (mi), to, for me.
Ac. mē, me.
Ab. (ā) mē, by me.

nōs, we.
nostrum or nostrī, of us.
nōbīs, to, for us.
nōs, us.
(ā) nōbīs, by us.

SECOND PERSON. 125. Tu, thou.

N. V. tū, thou.
G. tuī, of thee.
D. tibī, to, for thee.
Ac. tē, thee.
Ab. (ā) tē, by thee.

võs, you, ye.
vestrum or vestrī, of you.
võhīs, to, for you.
võs, you.
(ā) võbīs, by you.

THIRD PERSON. REFLEXIVE PRONOUN. 126. Suī, of himself, etc.

SINGULAR.

PLURAL.

N. —
G. sui, of himself, herself, itself.
D. sibi, to, for himself, etc.
Ac. sē (sēsē), himself, etc.
Ab. (ā), sē (sēsē), by himself, etc

suī of themselves. sibī, to, for themselves. sē (sēsē), themselves. (ā) sē (sēsē), by themselves.

127. For the personal pronoun of the third person the demonstrative is, ea, id, he, she, it, is generally used. But when reference is made in the oblique cases to the subject of the sentence, the reflexive personal, suī, is used; Omnes homines se amant, all men love themselves.

128. The nominatives of the personal pronouns are only used for emphasis or contrast: Ego sum ægrōtus, tu vales, I am sick, you are well.

129. "With me, with you," etc., are always expressed by mecum, tecum, secum, nobiscum, vobiscum, the preposition cum being always appended to the ablative of the personal pronoun.

130. The personal pronouns of the first and second person are often used with a reflexive sense: Tu te amas, thou lovest thyself; Ego mihi noceo, I injure myself.

131. Possessive Adjective Pronouns.

132. From personal pronouns are formed the possessives:

Meus, -a, -um							my, mine.
Noster, -tra, -trum							our, ours.
Tuus, -a, -um				4		*	thy, thine.
Vester, -tra, -trum			-				your, yours.
Suus, -a, -um							his, hers, its, their.

133. Possessives are declined as adjectives of the first and second declensions; but meus has in the vocative singular masculine generally mi, sometimes meus, and in the genitive plural sometimes meum instead of meōrum.

Ab. aliquō, aliquō, aliquō.

PLURAL.

N. aliqui,	aliquæ,	aliqua,
G. aliquorum,	aliquārum,	aliquorum,
D. aliquibus,	aliquibus,	aliquibus,
Ac. aliquos,	aliquās,	aliqua,
Ab. aliquibus,	aliquibus,	aliquibus.

156. Observe the feminine nominative singular and the neuter nominative plural of aliquis, and compare them with the corresponding forms of quis.

157. Aliquis is used adjectively in the neuter form aliquod, and sometimes in the masculine and feminine forms. The same is true of quidam and quisque.

158. Besides the interrogative quis and its compounds, there is an interrogative adjective qui (which? what?), declined like the relative qui.

159. Besides aliquis the most important indefinites are quidam, quædam, quiddam or quoddam, certain one, certain; quisquam (fem. wanting), quidquam, any one (no plural); quisque, quæque, quidque or quodque, each one, every.

160. Quidam, quisquam and quisque are declined like the simple pronouns. Quidam changes m to n before d—quendam quorundam, etc.

161. Aliquis, some one, any one (without emphasis); quisquam, any one at all (emphatic).

162. Aliquis hoc dixit means some one said this, but I don't know who; quidam, a certain man whom I know, but don't choose to name.

163. Rule of Syntax.—A relative pronoun agrees with its antecedent in gender and number: Medicus qui venit, the doctor who came; dosis quam dedit, the dose that he gave; medicamenta quæ emit, the drugs which he bought.

164. Rule of Syntax.—The verb of which a relative pronoun is the subject agrees in person and number with the antecedent of the relative.

CHAPTER XLII.

213. THE SUBJUNCTIVE MOOD.

214. Sequence of Tenses.

LEARN the subjunctive of sum (39) and its compounds (168).

215. The chief use of the subjunctive is in dependent clauses.

216. In dependent clauses the tenses of the subjunctive conform to the following rule:

217. Rule of Syntax.—Principal tenses depend upon principal tenses: secondary upon secondary.

218. Examine carefully the following examples:

- Video quid facias, feceris, factūrus sis, I see what you are doing, have done, are going to do.
- 2. Vidi quid facias, feceris, factūrus sis, I have seen what you are doing, have done, are going to do.
- Vidēbo quid facias, feceris, factūrus sis, I shall see what you are doing, have done, are going to do.
- 4. Videro quid facias, feceris, factūrus sis, I shall have seen what you are doing, have done, are going to do.
- 219. Notice that in the principal clauses of these examples the present, perfect definite (the perfect with have or has), future and future perfect are used.

220. These are called the primary or principal tenses.

221. Examine also the following:

- 1. Vidēbam quid faceres, fecisses, factūrus esses. I saw what you did, had done, were going to do.
- 2. Vidi quid faceres, fecisses, factūrus esses. I saw what you did, had done, were going to do.
- 3. Videram quid faceres, fecisses, factūrus esses. I had seen what you did, had done, were going to do.
- 222. Observe that in the principal clauses of these examples the imperfect, the perfect indefinite (the perfect without have or has), and the pluperfect are used.

223. These are called the secondary or historical tenses.

224. Notice also that the primary tenses of the subjunctive follow the primary tenses of the indicative in the first group of examples, and secondary the secondary in the second group.

225. You will also observe that the subjunctive in all these examples is translated like the indicative.

226. Quin (compounded of qui, who, and ne, not) is followed by the subjunctive after negative clauses denoting hindrance, resistance and doubt, as:

Non dubito quin sapiens sis, I do not doubt that you are wise; ægre abstinui quin dicerem, I hardly refrained from saying; nihil impedit quin eam domum, Nothing prevents me from going home.

EXERCISE. 100.

Non est dubium quin discipulus studiōsus sit. 2. Non dubito quin possit legere hoc præscriptum;—"Recipe, sodæ sulphātis unciam cum semisse, sodæ phosphātis unciam, syrupi rhamni drachmas quattuor, aquæ menthæ piperātæ uncias sex." 3. Quid impedit quin medicamentārius spiritum camphorātum possit hac formulā parāre?—"Recipe, camphoræ unciam unam, spiritus vini rectificāti libram unam. Misce." 4. Non dubium est quin aliquis hac formulā uti possit. 5. Hic puer non dubitat quin hæc sit formula recta ad spiritum lavandulæ parandum; '—"Recipe, florum lavandulæ libram unam, spiritus vini rectificāti libras quattuor, aquæ fontānæ quantum satis. Post maceratiōnem per viginti quattuor horas destillandō elice libras quattuor."

EXERCISE. 101.

1. What prevents the boy from being studious? 2. Nothing prevents him from being studious. 3 There is no doubt that he can turn this prescription to Latin:—"Take a drachm of the tincture of opium, six ounces of the mucilage of acacia, two drachms of the spirit of nitric æther. Mix." 4. I do not doubt that he can repeat in Latin the formula for preparing the tincture of cascarilla. 5. "Take five ounces of bruised bark of cascarilla, two pounds of rectified spirit of wine; macerate, express and filter."

227. Suggestive Derivations.

- 1. Camphorosma, from camphor, and osme, odor; having an odor of camphor.
- 2. Calefacients, from calidus, warm, and facere, to make; substances which excite warmth.
- 3. Distillatio, from de, from, and stillare, to drop; falling in drops.
- 4. Desiccatīva, from de and siccāre, to dry; external remedies which dry up the humors or moisture from a wound.
- 5. Incineratio, from in and cinis, ashes; a process by which animal or vegetable substances are reduced to ashes.
- Piperoid, from piper, pepper, and eidos, resemblance; resembling pepper.
- 7. Piperopastus, from piper and the Greek word, passein, to strew; strewed with pepper.
- 8. Torrefactio, from torridus, dry, or hot, and facere, to make; the act of making dry.

CHAPTER XLIII.

THE SUBJUNCTIVE MOOD-CONTINUED.

LEARN the subjunctive, active and passive, of amo, moneo, rego and audio.

- 228. Observe the similarity of form in the corresponding tenses of the indicative, subjunctive and infinitive moods.
- 229. Rule of Syntax.—Ut is used with the subjunctive to express a positive purpose, and ne, a negative purpose, and may be variously translated.

Examine the following :-

Æger capit medicamentum ut convalescat, The patient takes medicine that he may get well, in order that he may get well, so that he may get well, to get well, for the purpose of getting well.

Alius capit medicamentum ne æger sit, Another takes medicine that he may not be sick, in order not to be sick, so that he may not be sick, so as not to be sick, for the purpose of not being sick, lest he be sick.

EXERCISE. 102.

1. Hic edit ut vivat, ille vivit ut edat. 2. Hic discipulus venit in scholam ut discat, ille ut ludat. 3. Cura, puer, ne ludas potius quam studeas, et nihil discas. 4. Pensum hodiernum est de calore. Cur de hac nihil didicisti? 5. Domo exii ut cum amīco studērem, sed amicus exierat ut piscarētur, et ego nolens studēre solus eum secutus sum. 6. Neglexistine studium igitur ut piscarēris? 7. Non ut piscarer, sed ut de penso quærerem ex condiscipulo. 8. Bene intelligo: At quid cepisti? 9. Nil. 10. Quid! Nil cepisti? Totum diem piscabāris et nil piscium cepisti,-et nil de calore didicisti! Pudet me tui! Valde timeo, vagabunde, ne damno tuo de calore discas posthac! 11. Huc ventūrus eras hodie ut disceres et recitares de octo rebus in arte medicamentaria postulantibus vehementissimum calorem. 12. Et tamen nil didicisti de ignitione, fusione, calcinatione, deflagratione, torrefactione, incineratione, et ceteris: -et nil piscium cepisti! 13. Culpam nunc video, magister, et confiteor, et supplex oro ut mihi ignoscas. 14. Cras studēbo ut omnia de evaporatione, destillatione, desiccatione, exsiccatione, granulatione, sublimatione discam, et pisces capiam. 15. Bona promissa. Cura ne frangas. Tibi ignoscam cum hac admonitione: - Quandocunque aufugis a schola ut pisceris, provide ut capias, vel aliquid non jucundum expecta.

EXERCISE. 103.

1. Yesterday, my boy, you ran away from school to go fishing.
2. To-day I intend to ask you a few questions in order to test your knowledge of the subject which we are studying.
3. What is distillation?
4. Distillation is the separation of one liquid from another by vaporization and condensation, the volatile part being the

2. The servant was ordered to collect two pounds of live red ants.
3. He was then commanded to cleanse them from all filth, and use the following formula: 4. "Take two pounds of recently collected live red ants, four pounds each of spirits of rectified wine and spring water. 5. Draw off four pounds by distilling over a slow fire." 6. This formula is not in the American pharmacopæia. 7. By the aid of chemistry the druggist now prepares formic spirits in a much easier way. 8. Chemistry has furnished him many valuable remedies.

CHAPTER XLV.

THE SUBJUNCTIVE—CONTINUED.

232. Purpose is also often expressed in Latin by means of a relative pronoun followed by the subjunctive: Misit filium qui medicum consuleret, he sent his son to consult the physician.

1 Destillando leni igne.

233. The ablative is often used to denote a characteristic or quality. When thus used it is modified by an adjective: summā virtūte juvenis, a young man of the highest virtue; Medicus magno rerum usu, a physician of great experience.

234. This is sometimes called the descriptive ablative.

235. The genitive also has a similar use: medicamentum magni pretii, medicine of great value; vir maximī consilii, a man of very great prudence.

Indirect Question.

244. Rule of Syntax.—Indirect questions take the subjunctive, as:

						D	ure	ect	h.
1.	Ubi es	?												where	are y	ou?
2.	Ubi era	as?												where	were	you?
					I	ne	lir	ec	t.

2.	Scii ub	esses									1	le	nei	w where	e you	were.
		C 11	 -

Examine the following:

- 1. Scio ubi es, fueris, I know where you are, have been or were.
- 2. Sciam ubi es, fueris, I shall know where you are, have been, or were.
- 3. Scii ubi es, fueris, I have known where you are, have been, or were.

¹ It is characteristic of a dainty appetite.

- 4. Sciero ubi sis, fueris, I shall have known where you are, have been, or were.
 - 5. Sciebam ubi esses, fuisses, I knew where you were, had been.
 - 6. Scii ubi esses, fuisses, I knew where you were, had been.
- 7. Scieram ubi esses, fuisses, I had known where you were, had been.
- 245. Observe that the indirect question is translated like the indicative.
- 246. Notice also how these examples illustrate the rule for the sequence of tenses.

CHAPTER XLIX.

Wishes and Conditions.

247. Rule of Syntax.—In wishes and conditions the present subjunctive is used of what may be fulfilled, the imperfect subjunctive of what is not true, the pluperfect subjunctive of what was not true. The same mood is regularly employed in the conclusion of such conditional sentences:

Examine the following:

1. Utinam medicus veniat! would that the doctor would come!

I wish the doctor would come! O, that the doctor would come!

- 2. Si medicus veniat, puero medicet, if the doctor should come he would cure my boy.
 - 3. Utinam medicus adesset! O, that the doctor were here!
- Si medicus adesset, lætus essem, if the doctor were here I should be glad.
- 5. Utinam medicus adfuisset! would that the doctor had been here!
- 6. Si medicus adfuisset, puero medicavisset, if the doctor had been here he would have cured my boy.

VOCABULARY. 47.

EXERCISE 111.

1. Si fluida extracta velis parāre, altum, et rectum percolatōrem seligas; si acrem tinctūram, percolatōrem in formam campānæ redactum et latiōrem seligas. 2. Si qualitātem et natūram medicamenti, quod vellet percolāre, diligentius inspexisset, aptiorem percolatōrem seligisset. 3. Si mihi sex unciæ krameriæ essent, docērem te quomodo tinctūram krameriæ parāres. 4. Si pulverem madefacias menstruo antequam incipis percolāre, multo facilius et citius percoles. 5. Si ratiōnem hujus rēi non intelligis, pharmacopæiam cum curā majōre lege. 6. Si pulverem in percolatōrem recte pressisses, menstruum lente et aequabiliter descendisset. 7. CHAPTER L.

THE SUBJUNCTIVE—CONTINUED.

248. The Hortatory subjunctive is used in exhortations and commands.

Examine the following:-

Consulamus medicum, let us consult a physician.

Capiat grana decem ter die, let him take ten grains three times a day.

Sumas pilulam quininæ alternā horā, take a quinine pill every other hour.

Nihil venēni ceperis, take no poison.

³ Absorpta. ⁴ Si mihi essent apparatus et paucæ unciæ recentium florum rosarum.

⁶ Pres. subj.,—veniat!

Repugnantia medicamenta ne miscueris, do not mix incompatible drugs.

Ne nimium magnam dosim capias, do not take too large a dose. 249. The present and perfect subjunctive are used with scarcely any difference in meaning.

250. In negative commands the perfect subjunctive is generally used.

251. The subjunctive of desire is the usual form in Latin prescriptions.

All of the sentences for translation in this lesson are taken from a collection of Latin prescriptions written by English physicians. The vocabulary will be found after the exercises.

EXERCISE. 112.

- 1. Detrahātur e brachio sanguis ad uncias decem statim. 2. Venæsectio fiat ut sanguinis unciæ quinque fluant. 3. Statim abradātur capillitium, et cucurbitulæ cruentæ nuchæ applicentur. 4. CHAPTER LI.

THE IMPERATIVE.

REVIEW the present and learn the future imperative, active and passive of the regular and irregular verbs.

253. The imperative is used in commands and entreaties: As,—consulite vobīs, prospicite patriæ, conservāte vos, consult for yourselves, look out for the country, preserve yourselves.

Te ipsum concute, examine yourself.

254. A negative command, or prohibition, is generally expressed by ne with the second person of the perfect subjunctive, as was stated in the preceding lesson. Noli with the infinitive is also often used: As,—Noli putare, do not suppose (be unwilling to suppose).

EXERCISE. 113.

- 1. Tere oleum cum mucilagine donec probe coiverint, tum sensim adde decoctum, ut fiat enema. 2. Cochleare parvum ter quaterve die exhibe, si convulsio vel spasmus urgeatur. 3. CHAPTER LII.

THE INFINITIVE.

Learn the infinitives of the regular and irregular verbs.

255. It will be seen from the following illustrations that the Latin infinitive is used essentially the same as the English infinitive:

Errāre humānum est, to err is human.

Turpe est mentīri, to lie (lying) is base.

Latīne loqui didicit, he learned to speak Latīn.

² Ex cyatho parvo.
³ Absente febre.
⁴ In partes excoriatas.

Nemo mortem effugere potest, no one is able to escape death.

256. The Infinitive with Subject-Accusative. Rule of Syntax.

—The infinitive, with subject-accusative, is used with verbs and other expressions of saying, knowing, thinking, perceiving, and the like.

257. Direct Discourse.

Medicus est, he is a physician.

Quinīna amāra est, quinine is bitter.

Sapiens est, he is wise.

Nauta morbum periculosum contraxit, the sailor contracted a dangerous disease.

258. Indirect Discourse.

Dicit se medicum esse, he says that he is a physician [lit.—he says himself to be a physician].

Sentīmus quinīnam amāram esse, we perceive that quinine is bitter [lit., we perceive quinine to be bitter].

Putat se sapientem esse, he thinks that he is wise [lit., he thinks himself to be wise].

Rumor est nautam periculosum morbum contraxisse, there is a report that the sailor contracted a dangerous disease [lit., there is a report the sailor to have contracted a dangerous disease].

259. Notice that there is no word in the Latin sentence which corresponds to the English word that in the translation.

Tenses of the Infinitive.

260. Rule of Syntax.—The present, the perfect or the future infinitive is used in indirect discourse, according as the time indicated is present, past or future with reference to the verb of saying, etc., by which the indirect discourse is introduced, as:

cadebat, he was falling, cecidit, he fell, dixit, ceciderat, he had fallen, dixit, } se cecidisse, { he said, } he was falling.

cadet, he will fall, { dicit, dixit, } se casūrum [esse], { he says he shall fall, he said he should fall.

261. Observe that the tenses of the infinitive are not absolute, but relate to the time of the verb on which they depend.

262. Subordinate clauses of the indirect discourse take the subjunctive, as:

Clamitabat, si ille adesset, venturos esse, he cried out that they would come if he were present.

Ferunt hominem, quem viderim, clarum medicum esse, they say that the man whom I saw is a famous physician.

EXERCISE. 114.

Ferunt' siquis dolorem capitis, tormina ventris, febriculam levem, contusionem malam, claudam manum vel pedem, vel aliquem fere alium morbum vulnusve habuerit, solitos esse sanguinem pleno rivo extrahere, hirudines multos alicui parti corporis applicare, vel cruentas cucurbitulas admovere. 3. Videntur putavisse morbum sine sanguinis emissione vix posse curari. 4. Dicitur medicum scalpellum, instrumentum utilissimum, die nocteque semper secum habuisse. 5. Libri veteres de medicina demonstrant hæc vera esse. 6. Amicus dicit se librum veterem plenum præscriptionum de sectione venārum habēre. 7. Amīcus idem dicit se invenisse hæc præscripta et multa similia in illo libro: 8. "Si primæ venæsectioni non cedat morbus, tum repetātur. 9. Si dolor perstiterit ad latus, mittantur sanguinis unciæ viginti e brachio. 10. Si convulsio redeat, haud aliter,3 detrahātur sanguis per cucurbitulas tres."
- 1. They say that many years ago doctors were more fond of blood-letting than now. 2. It is said that they carried a sharp lancet always ready for venesection; 3. and that, if a patient was not already dead, they were accustomed to cut him to pieces

Used here as an impersonal verb—it is agreed, or is clear; lit.—"it stands together."
 They say—dicunt.
 Not otherwise.
 Amantiöres emissiönis sanguinis.
 Jam mortuus esset.

to revive¹ him. 4. I have heard, but hardly believe the story, that the old doctors always carried with them a great supply² of leeches. 5. Many supposed that they used³ leeches to draw blood from the bodies of their patients, in order that they might themselves⁴ draw money from their⁵ purses. 6. A friend who has had experience says that the present generation⁶ of doctors needs no leeches,—that their bills¹ stick closer to the pocket-book than leeches to the skin.

CHAPTER LIII.

263. PARTICIPLES-ABLATIVE ABSOLUTE.

LEARN the participles of the regular and irregular verbs.

264. The present participle is declined like an adjective of the third declension ending in ns, see 71.

265. All other participles are declined like fluidus, a, um (33). 266. Participles denote time, as present, past or future, with respect to the time of the verb in their clause.

Examine the following:

- 1. Bibens venënum { moritur, he dies, moriëtur, he will die, mortuus est, he died, } from drinking poison.
- 2. Camphoram valde redölens, smelling strongly of camphor.
- 3. Fluidum in modulum ferreum calefactum, sebo illitum, infunde, pour the liquid into an iron measure which has been warmed and smeared with tallow.

CHAPTER LIV.

IMPERSONAL VERBS.

Many verbs, from their meaning, appear only in the third person singular.

271. These are called impersonal verbs, as having no personal subject.

272. These verbs may be classified as follows:-

1. Verbs expressing operations of nature and time of day: Pluit, it rains.

Tonat, it thunders.

Vesperascit, it is growing late.

2. Verbs of feeling:

Miseret me mali tui, I pity (it grieves me of) your misfortune.

Pudet me tui, I am ashamed (it shames me) of you.

- 3. Hæmaphobus, from hæma, and phobus, dread, blood-dread; one who faints at the sight of blood.
- 4. Hæmatology, from hæma, and logos, discourse; that part of medicine which treats of blood.

Hæma is a compound in more than 200 medical terms.

- 5. Humor Pericardii, the fluid, peri, around, cardia, heat.
- 6. Malagma, from the Greek verb mallasso, "I soften," a poultice.

- 7. Enanthe, from oinos, wine, and anthos, flower, wine-flower, the flower smelling like the vine.
- 8. Pedialgia, from pes, foot, and algia, pain, foot-pain, a pain in the feet.
- 9. Rosmarīnus, from ros, dew, and marinus, marine, marine-dew, sea-dew; rosemary.
- 10. Subdiaphanus, from sub, here meaning somewhat, dia, through, and phanus, showing or shining, shining through somewhat, or somewhat transparent.
- 11. Xylobalsamum, from xylon, wood, and balsamum, wood-balsamum.

308. The Physician Visiting a Patient.

Ob quam causam, periti medici1 est, non protinus2 ut venit, apprehendere manu brachium: sed primum residere, hilari vultu, percontarique, quemadmodum se 3 habet; et si quis ejus metus est, eum probabili sermone lenire; tum deinde ejus corpori manum Quas venas autem conspectus medici movet, quam facile mille res turbant! Altera res est, cui credimus, calor, æque fallax: nam hic quoque excitatur æstu, labore, somno, metu, sollicitudine. Igitur intuēri quidem etiam ista oportet; sed his non omnia credere. Ac protinus quidem scire, non febricitare eum, cujus venæ naturaliter ordinātæ sunt, teporque talis est, qualis esse sani solet: non protinus autem sub calore motuque febrem esse concipere; * sed ita, 5 si summa 6 quoque arida inæqualiter cutis est; si calor et in fronte est, et ex imis præcordiis orītur; si spiritus ex naribus cum fervore prorumpit; si color aut rubore, aut pallore novo mutatus est; si oculi graves, et aut persicci aut subhumidi sunt; si sudor quum fit, inæquālis est; si venæ non æqualibus intervallis moventur. Ob quam causam medicus

¹ Genitive of characteristic; it is the characteristic of a skillful physician.

² Non protinus ut,-not as soon as.

² Quemadmodum se habet,-how he is; lit. how he has himself.

^{*} Not immediately to conceive that there is fever under, etc.

⁶ But so to conceive if, etc.

⁶ If the surface of the skin also is unequally dry.

neque in tenēbris, neque a capite 1 ægri debet residere; sed illustri loco adversus, ut omnes notas ex vultu 2 quoquo cubantis percipiat. (Celsus.)

309. Cato on the Medicinal Value of Cabbage.

Verum morbum articutarium nulla res tantum purgat, quantum brassica cruda, si eam edes cum rutā et coriandro concīsam. Sic³ et laserpitium inrāsum cum brassicā oxymelli et sale sparsā. Hac si uteris, omnes articulas poteris experiri. Nullus sumptus est: et si sumptus esset, tamen valetudinis causā experīrer. Hanc oportet mane jejūnum esse.⁴ Omnem, qui insomniōsus est, hac eādem curatiōne sanum facies. Verum assam brassicam, et unctam caldam, et salis paulum dato homini jejūno: quam plurimum⁵ ederit, tam citissime sanus fiet ex eo morbo.

Tormina quibus ⁶ molesta erunt, sic facito: ⁷ brassicam macerāto bene, postea in aulam conjicito, defervefacito bene. Ubi cocta erit bene, aquam defundito. Eo addito oleum bene, et salis paululum, et cumīnum, et pollinem polentæ. Postea ferve bene facito. Ubi ferverit, in catīnum indito. Dato (ægro) ut edat, si poterit, sine pane; si non, panis paululum ibidem madefaciat. Et si febrim non habēbit, dato vinum atrum ut bibat. Cito sanus fiet.

310. Suggestive Derivations.

- 1. Cubans, from the root cub, bending, as indicating the reclining position of a sick person.
- 2. Experior, from ex, out, per, through, and ire, to go; to go through and out of, and so to know or test thoroughly.
- 3. Febricosus, from febris, fever, and osus, a termination signifying fullness; full of feverish symptoms.

Ex vultu quoque, from every expression.

⁸ Sic refers to the statement in the preceding sentence; laserpitium, will do the same.
4 Esse, to eat.

⁵ Lit. "as he shall have eaten the most, so the most quickly," etc.; the more he shall eat, the more quickly will he be free from.

⁶ In the dative after molesta.

⁷ The second person singular, of the imperative, is very common in Cato.

- 4. Febrifuga, from febris, fever, and fugāre, to drive away; a medicine which tends to drive away fever.
 - 5. Præcordia, from præ, before, and cor, the heart, the midriff.
- 6. Oxymel, from oxus, acid, and mel, honey; acid-honey, a mix-ture of vinegar and honey.
 - 7. Tormina, from torquere, to twist; the gripes.
- 8. Venesectio, from vēna, vein, and sectio, cutting; vein-cutting, or opening a vein.

311. The Antidote of Mithridates. (Celsus.)

Nobilissimum autem antidotum est Mithridatis, quod quotidie sumendo rex ille dicitur adversus venenorum pericula tutum corpus suum reddidisse: in quo hæc sunt: costi sexta pars drachmæ, acori drachmæ quinque, hyperici, gummis, sagapēni, acaciæ, succi, iridis illyricæ, cardamomi, singulõrum drachmæ duæ; anīsi drachmæ tres; nardi gallici, gentiānæ radicis, aridorum rosæ foliorum, singulorum drachmæ quattuor; papavěris lacrimæ, petroselini, bis tertia pars drachmæ, casiæ, silis, polii, piperis longi, singulörum drachmæ sex; styracis drachma, castorei, turis, hypocistidis succi, myrrhæ, opopanacis, singulörum drachmæ sex; malabathri folii drachmæ sex; floris Junci rotundi, resīnæ terebinthinæ, galbani dauci cretici seminis, singulorum drachma una; nardi, opobalsami, singulorum drachma; thlaspis tertia pars drachmæ; radicis Ponticæ drachmæ septem; croci, zingiberis, cinnamōmi, singulōrum drachmæ octo. Hæc contrita melle excipiuntur, et adversus venerum, quod 1 magnitudinem nucis Græcæ impleat, ex vino 2 datur: in ceteris autem affectibus corporis pro modo 3 eorum, vel quod Ægyptiæ fabæ, vel quod ervi magnitudinem impleat, satis est.

312. Celsus' Remedy for Hydrophobia.

Si rabiōsus canis fuit, cucurbitulā virus ejus extrahendum est. Deinde, si locus neque nervosus, neque musculōsus est, vulnus id adurendum est: si uri non potest, sanguinem homini mitti non aliē-

¹ Antecedent of this relative is understood, and is the subject of datur.

² As much is given in wine as will fill the size, etc.

^{*}According to the severity: lit. according to the size.

num¹ est. Tum usto² quidem vulneri superimponenda quæ ceteris ustis sunt: ei vero quod expertum ignem non est, ea medicamenta quæ vehementer exedunt. Post quæ nullo novo magisterio,³ sed jam suprā positō³ vulnus erit implendum, et ad sanitātem perducendum. Quidam post rabiōsi canis morsum protinus in balneum mittunt⁴ ibique patiuntur desudāre, dum vires corporis sinunt, vulnere adaperto, quo⁵ magis ex eo quoque virus destillat: deinde multo meracoque vino excipiunt, quod omnibus venēnis contrarium est. Idque quum ita per triduum, factum est, tutus esse homo a periculo vidētur.

Solet autem ex eo vulnere, ubi parum occursum 6 est, aquæ timor nasci: hydrophobiam Græci appellant. Miserrimum genus morbi, in quo simul æger et siti et aquæ metu cruciātur: quo oppressis in angusto 7 spes est. Sed unicum tamen remedium est, nec opinantem in piscīnam non ante ei provīsam projicere,8 et, si natandi scientiam non habet, modo mersum bibere pati, modo attollere; si habet, interdum deprimere, ut invītus quoque aquā satiētur: sic enim simul et sitis et aquæ metus tollitur. Sed alliud periculum excipit, ne infirmum corpus in aquā frigidā vexātum nervorum distentio absumat. Id ne incidat, a piscīnā protinus in oleum calidum demittendus est.

313. Suggestive Derivations.

- 1. Hydrophobia, from the Greek hudor, water, and phobos, dread; water-dread, or fear of water.
- 2. Hydropericardium, from hudör, water, peri, around, and cardia, the heart; water around the heart.

^{*}Then upon the burnt wound those remedies ought to be placed.

³ Abl. of means, by no new direction, but by that already laid down above

^{*}The object of mittunt is ægrum understood.

⁵ Quo introduces a clause of purpose with distillet.

⁶ When it has not been thoroughly cured ;-lit, met.

⁷ Lit: "hope is in a narrow" (place); there is but little hope: oppressis is in the dative, and quo in the ablative.

⁸ Projicere (ægrum) nec opinantem, etc., to throw the patient, when not expecting it, into a pend not before seen by him (non ante ei provisam).

3. Hydrocephalus, from hudor, and cephale, the head; water in the head, or dropsy of the brain.

Hudor enters into hundreds of compound words.

- 4. Opobalsamum, from opos, gum, and balsamum, gum-balsam.
- 5. Sanguipurgium, from sanguis, blood, and purgare, to purify; blood-purifier.
- 6. Sanguisorba, from sanguis, and sorbere, to absorb; blood-absorber, a plant once used as an astringent in hemorrhages.
- 7. Sanguisuga, from sanguis, and sugëre, to suck; a blood-sucker, leech.
- 8. Sudoriferous, from sudor, sweat, and ferre, to carry; sweat-bearing, as the sudoriferous ducts or glands.

3000 Questions on Medical Subjects.

A NEW SERIES OF STUDENTS' MANUALS

On the various Branches of Medicine and Surgery.

Can be used by Students of any College.

Price of each, Handsome Cloth, $3.00. Full Leather, $3.50.

The object of this series is to furnish good manuals for the medical student, that will strike the medium between the compend on one hand and the prolix textbook on the other-to contain all that is necessary for the student, without embarrassing him with a flood of theory and involved statements. They have been prepared by well-known men, who have had large experience as teachers and writers, and who are, therefore, well informed as to the needs of the student.

Their mechanical execution is of the best-good type and paper, handsomely illustrated whenever illustrations are of use, and strongly bound in uniform style.

Each book is sold separately at a remarkably low price, and the immediate success of several of the volumes shows that the series has met with popular favor.

No. 1. SURGERY. 318 Illustrations. Third Edition.

A Manual of the Practice of Surgery. By Wm. I. WALSHAM, M.D., Asst. Surg. to, and Demonstrator of Surg. in, St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London, etc. 318 Illustrations.

Presents the introductory facts in Surgery in clear, precise language, and contains all the latest advances in Pathology, Antiseptics, etc.

"It aims to occupy a position midway between the pretentious manual and the cumbersome System of Surgery, and its general character may be summed up in one word—practical."—The Medi-character may be summed up in one word—practical. — The interactal Bulletin.

"Walsham, besides being an excellent surgeon, is a teacher in its best sense, and having had very great experience in the preparation of candidates for examination, and their subsequent professional career, may be relied upon to have carried out his work successfully. Without following out in detail his arrangement, which is excellent, we can at once say that his book is an embodiment of modern ideas neatly strung together, with an amount of careful organization well suited to the candidate, and, indeed, to the practitioner,"—British Medical Journal.

Price of each Book, Cloth, $3.00; Leather, $3.50.

No. 2. DISEASES OF WOMEN. 150 Illus. NEW EDITION.

The Diseases of Women. Including Diseases of the Bladder and Urethra. By Dr. F. WINCKEL, Professor of Gynæcology and Director of the Royal University Clinic for Women, in Munich. Second Edition. Revised and Edited by Theophilus Parvin, M.D., Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children in Jefferson Medical College. 150 Engravings, most of which are original.

"The book will be a valuable one to physicians, and a safe and satisfactory one to put into the hands of students. It is issued in a neat and attractive form, and at a very reasonable price."—Boston Medical and Surgical Journal.

No. 3. OBSTETRICS. 227 Illustrations.

A Manual of Midwifery. By ALFRED LEWIS GALABIN, M.A., M.D., Obstetric Physician and Lecturer on Midwifery and the Diseases of Women at Guy's Hospital, London; Examiner in Midwisery to the Conjoint Examining Board of England, etc. With 227 Illus.

"This manual is one we can strongly recommend to all who desire to study the science as well as the practice of midwifery. Students at the present time not only are expected to know the principles of diagnosis, and the treatment of the various emergencies and complications that occur in the practice of midwifery, but find that the tendency is for examiners to ask more questions relating to the science of the subject than was the custom a few years ago. * * * The general standard of the manual is high; and wherever the science and practice of midwifery are well taught and wherever the science and practice of midwifery are well taught it will be regarded as one of the most important text-books on the subject."—London Practitioner.

No. 4. PHYSIOLOGY. Fifth Edition. 321 ILLUSTRATIONS AND A GLOSSARY.

A Manual of Physiology. By GERALD F. YEO, M.D., F.R.C.S., Professor of Physiology in King's College, London, 321 Illustrations and a Glossary of Terms. Fifth American from last English Edition, revised and improved. 758 pages.

This volume was specially prepared to furnish students with a new text-book of Physiology, elementary so far as to avoid theories which have not borne the test of time and such details of methods as are unnecessary for students in our medical colleges,

"The brief examination I have given it was so favorable that I placed it in the list of text-books recommended in the circular of the University Medical College,"—Prof. Lewis A. Stimson, M.D., 37 East 33d Street, New York.

Price of each Book, Cloth, $3.00; Leather, $3.50.

No. 5. DISEASES OF CHILDREN.

SECOND EDITION.

A Manual. By J. F. GOODHART, M.D., Phys. to the Evelina Hospital for Children; Asst. Phys. to Guy's Hospital, London. Second American Edition. Edited and Rearranged by LOUIS STARR, M.D., Clinical Prof. of Dis. of Children in the Hospital of the Univ. of Pennsylvania, and Physician to the Children's Hospital, Phila. Containing many new Prescriptions, a list of over 50 Formulæ, conforming to the U. S. Pharmacopoeia, and Directions for making Artificial Human Milk, for the Artificial Digestion of Milk, etc. Illus.

"The merits of the book are many. Aside from the praiseworthy work of the printer and binder, which gives us a print and page that delights the eye, there is the added charm of a style of writing that is not wearisome, that makes its statements clearly and forcibly, and that knows when to stop when it has said enough. The insertion of typical temperature charts certainly enhances the value of the book. It is rare, too, to find in any text-book so many topics treated of. All the rarer and out-of-the-way diseases are given consideration. This we commend. It makes the work valuable."—Archives of Pedriatics, July, 1800.

"The author has avoided the not uncommon error of writing a book on general medicine and labeling it 'Diseases of Children,' but has steadily kept in view the diseases which seemed to be incidental to childhood, or such points in disease as appear to be so peculiar to or pronounced in children as to justify insistence upon them. * * * A safe and reliable guide, and in many ways admirably adapted to the wants of the student and practitioner."—

American Journal of Meaical Science.

"Thoroughly individual, original and earnest, the work evidently of a close observer and an independent thinker, this book, though small, as a handbook or compendium is by no means made up of bare outlines or standard facts."—The Therapeutic Gazette.

"As it is said of some men, so it might be said of some books, that they are 'born to greatness.' This new volume has, we believe, a mission, particularly in the hands of the younger members of the profession. In these days of prolixity in medical literature, it is refreshing to meet with an author who knows both what to say and when he has said it. The work of Dr. Goodhart (admirably conformed, by Dr. Starr, to meet American requirements) is the nearest approach to clinical teaching without the actual presence of clinical material that we have yet seen."—New York Medical Record.

Price of each Book, Cloth, $3.00; Leather, $3.50.

No. 6. PRACTICAL THERAPEUTICS. FOURTH EDITION, WITH AN INDEX OF DISEASES.

Practical Therapeutics, considered with reference to Articles of the Materia Medica. Containing, also, an Index of Diseases, with a list of the Medicines applicable as Remedies. By EDWARD JOHN WARING, M.D., F.R.C.P. Fourth Edition. Rewritten and Revised by DUDLEY W. BUXTON, M.D., Asst. to the Prof. of Medicine at University College Hospital.

"We wish a copy could be put in the hands of every Student or Practitioner in the country. In our estimation, it is the best book of the kind ever written."—N. Y. Medical Journal.

"Dr. Waring's Therapeutics has long been known as one of the most thorough and valuable of medical works. The amount of actual intellectual labor it represents is immense. . . An index of diseases, with the remedies appropriate for their treatment, closes the volume."—Boston Medical and Surgical Reporter.

"The plan of this work is an admirable one, and one well calculated to meet the wants of busy practitioners. There is a remarkable amount of information, accompanied with judicious comments, imparted in a concise yet agreeable style."—Medical Record.

No. 7. MEDICAL JURISPRUDENCE AND TOXICOLOGY.

THIRD REVISED EDITION.

By JOHN J. REESE, M.D., Professor of Medical Jurisprudence and Toxicology in the University of Pennsylvania; President of the Medical Jurisprudence Society of Phila.; Third Edition, Revised and Enlarged.

"This admirable text-book."—Amer. Jour. of Med. Sciences.
"We lay this volume aside, after a careful perusal of its pages, with the profound impression that it should be in the hands of every doctor and lawyer. It fully meets the wants of all students. He has succeeded in admirably condensing into a handy volume all the essential points."—Cincinnati Lancet and Clinic.

"The book before us will, we think, be found to answer the expectations of the student or practitioner seeking a manual of jurisprudence, and the call for a second edition is a flattering testimony to the value of the author's present effort. The medical portion of this volume seems to be uniformly excellent, leaving little for adverse criticism. The information on the subject matter treated has been carefully compiled, in accordance with recent knowledge. The toxicological portion appears specially excellent. Of that portion of the work treating of the legal relations of the practitioner and medical witness, we can express a generally favorable verdict."—Physician and Surgeon, Ann Arbor, Mich.
